ART & CULTURE, PREVIEWS

A vibrant, colorful stage performance, likely a musical or dance production. The scene is filled with thick, white smoke or fog, creating a dreamy atmosphere. Bright, multi-colored stage lights (red, blue, green, and yellow) illuminate the performers and the set. In the foreground, several performers are visible, some with their arms raised in a celebratory gesture. The background features large, stylized props, including palm trees and what appears to be a large, glowing screen or backdrop. The overall mood is energetic and festive.

Street food market with live music returns to Leeds this July

The iconic towers are home to popular attractions like BAKE, Midnight Bell, Cross Keys, 92 Degrees Coffee, Willow Method and Emba – as well as being situated beside the scenic canal and just a stone's throw from Leeds Train Station.

Last year saw thousands of foodies, influencers and familiar faces flock to the launch weekend, and this year's event is expected to be even better.

Less than a five-minute walk from the station and Northern Monk Refectory, it couldn't be a better central Leeds spot.

Strategic property and construction advisors, Fox Lloyd Jones are the commercial letting agents for the Tower Works scheme and businesses wanting to be part of this growing community should contact them directly to find out more. Attendees can “expect a jam-packed lineup of some of the best street food and drink vendors, artisan markets, independent bars, groovy tunes as well as plenty of furniture to lounge on”. Tower Works Street Fest Production Manager Michael Johnston said: “The vibe was incredible last year and we can't wait to bring back this event at the picturesque Tower Works, making it even better than the last. With top-notch international food and drink vendors from across the north to host the festival each month, it's shaping up to be another belter. New for this month, we have fantastic live entertainment from local musicians, Lewis Crossley and Danny Charles.”

“And if you're looking for a cocktail or two, you can visit Reserve Cocktail Bar or The Tipple Express, to name a few.

The festival will run every first weekend of the month, including August and September.

There are plenty of tasty street food vendors to give a try, with this month's festival welcoming Little Somboon Kitchen, Piggie smalls, Ichi Sushi and Little bubble box.

Take a wander down the market stalls, Yorkshire Mushroom Emporium, Forme.Coco's Corner KARPATY BAKERY MyCookieDoug – perfect if you're on the hunt for a foodie gift.

Entertainment is even sorted too, with Lewis Crossley Music joining the festivities on Friday evening, and Danny Charles Music on Saturday from 6pm
